You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$639,000	69.50%	$919,424
2026	$1,087,700	100.00%	$1,087,700
Net Change	$448,700

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

	2025 Taxable Assessed Value *	2026 Preliminary Taxable Assessed Value *	Approximate Tax Liability
			2025	2026
COUNTY	$409,575	$858,013	$1,995	$2,709
TOWN	$430,500	$876,778	$1,850	$2,451
SCHOOL	$444,450	$889,288	$6,459	$8,533
Approximate Total Taxes:			$10,304	$13,693
Increase in Estimated Taxes:				$3,389

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

EXEMPTIONS

No Exemptions on this parcel

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$117,000	69.50%	$168,345
2026	$171,000	100.00%	$171,000
Net Change	$54,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

	2025 Taxable Assessed Value *	2026 Preliminary Taxable Assessed Value *	Approximate Tax Liability
			2025	2026
COUNTY	$117,000	$171,000	$570	$540
TOWN	$117,000	$171,000	$503	$478
SCHOOL	$117,000	$171,000	$2,263	$2,169
Approximate Total Taxes:			$3,336	$3,187
Decrease in Estimated Taxes:				-$149

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$221,300	69.50%	$318,417
2026	$389,000	100.00%	$389,000
Net Change	$167,700

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

	2025 Taxable Assessed Value *	2026 Preliminary Taxable Assessed Value *	Approximate Tax Liability
			2025	2026
COUNTY	$221,300	$389,000	$1,078	$1,228

SCHOOL	$221,300	$389,000	$3,377	$3,857
Approximate Total Taxes:			$5,406	$6,172
Increase in Estimated Taxes:				$766

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$152,000	69.50%	$218,705
2026	$317,000	100.00%	$317,000
Net Change	$165,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

	2025 Taxable Assessed Value *	2026 Preliminary Taxable Assessed Value *	Approximate Tax Liability
			2025	2026
COUNTY	$152,000	$317,000	$740	$1,001

SCHOOL	$152,000	$317,000	$2,209	$3,042
Approximate Total Taxes:			$3,602	$4,929
Increase in Estimated Taxes:				$1,327

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

Approximate Total Taxes:			$4,610	$4,353
Decrease in Estimated Taxes:				-$257

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

Approximate Total Taxes:			$1,055	$1,057
Increase in Estimated Taxes:				$2

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$26,800	69.50%	$38,561
2026	$40,400	100.00%	$40,400
Net Change	$13,600

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$20,000	69.50%	$28,777
2026	$25,000	100.00%	$25,000
Net Change	$5,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$160,200	69.50%	$230,504
2026	$240,000	100.00%	$240,000
Net Change	$79,800

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$225,600	69.50%	$324,604
2026	$325,000	100.00%	$325,000
Net Change	$99,400

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$154,000	69.50%	$221,583
2026	$298,000	100.00%	$298,000
Net Change	$144,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$145,000	69.50%	$208,633
2026	$147,000	100.00%	$147,000
Net Change	$2,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$63,000	69.50%	$90,647
2026	$96,100	100.00%	$96,100
Net Change	$33,100

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$35,500	69.50%	$51,079
2026	$54,400	100.00%	$54,400
Net Change	$18,900

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$309,000	69.50%	$444,604
2026	$425,000	100.00%	$425,000
Net Change	$116,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$157,000	69.50%	$225,899
2026	$243,000	100.00%	$243,000
Net Change	$86,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$170,000	69.50%	$244,604
2026	$275,000	100.00%	$275,000
Net Change	$105,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$215,000	69.50%	$309,353
2026	$351,000	100.00%	$351,000
Net Change	$136,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

Approximate Total Taxes:			$4,234	$4,908
Increase in Estimated Taxes:				$674

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$252,000	69.50%	$362,590
2026	$400,000	100.00%	$400,000
Net Change	$148,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$80,000	69.50%	$115,108
2026	$160,000	100.00%	$160,000
Net Change	$80,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$295,300	69.50%	$424,892
2026	$469,000	100.00%	$469,000
Net Change	$173,700

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

EXEMPTIONS

No Exemptions on this parcel

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$350,000	69.50%	$503,597
2026	$560,000	100.00%	$560,000
Net Change	$210,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

	2025 Taxable Assessed Value *	2026 Preliminary Taxable Assessed Value *	Approximate Tax Liability
			2025	2026
COUNTY	$350,000	$560,000	$1,705	$1,768
TOWN	$350,000	$560,000	$1,504	$1,565
SCHOOL	$350,000	$560,000	$5,341	$5,553
Approximate Total Taxes:			$8,550	$8,886
Increase in Estimated Taxes:				$336

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$150,000	69.50%	$215,827
2026	$245,000	100.00%	$245,000
Net Change	$95,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

	2025 Taxable Assessed Value *	2026 Preliminary Taxable Assessed Value *	Approximate Tax Liability
			2025	2026
COUNTY	$150,000	$245,000	$731	$773
TOWN	$150,000	$245,000	$645	$685
SCHOOL	$150,000	$245,000	$2,902	$3,107
Approximate Total Taxes:			$4,278	$4,565
Increase in Estimated Taxes:				$287

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$118,900	69.50%	$171,079
2026	$202,000	100.00%	$202,000
Net Change	$83,100

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

	2025 Taxable Assessed Value *	2026 Preliminary Taxable Assessed Value *	Approximate Tax Liability
			2025	2026
COUNTY	$118,900	$202,000	$579	$638
TOWN	$118,900	$202,000	$511	$565
SCHOOL	$118,900	$202,000	$1,815	$2,003
Approximate Total Taxes:			$2,905	$3,206
Increase in Estimated Taxes:				$301

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$93,000	69.50%	$133,813
2026	$130,000	100.00%	$130,000
Net Change	$37,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

	2025 Taxable Assessed Value *	2026 Preliminary Taxable Assessed Value *	Approximate Tax Liability
			2025	2026
COUNTY	$93,000	$130,000	$453	$410

Approximate Total Taxes:			$2,652	$2,422
Decrease in Estimated Taxes:				-$230

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$65,000	69.50%	$93,525
2026	$145,000	100.00%	$145,000
Net Change	$80,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

	2025 Taxable Assessed Value *	2026 Preliminary Taxable Assessed Value *	Approximate Tax Liability

SCHOOL	$0	$5,770	$0	$55
Approximate Total Taxes:			$354	$487
Increase in Estimated Taxes:				$133

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$75,000	69.50%	$107,914
2026	$235,000	100.00%	$235,000
Net Change	$160,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

	2025 Taxable Assessed Value *	2026 Preliminary Taxable Assessed Value *	Approximate Tax Liability
			2025	2026
COUNTY	$75,000	$235,000	$365	$742
TOWN	$75,000	$235,000	$322	$657
SCHOOL	$75,000	$235,000	$1,145	$2,330
Approximate Total Taxes:			$1,832	$3,729
Increase in Estimated Taxes:				$1,897

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$192,000	69.50%	$276,259
2026	$279,000	100.00%	$279,000
Net Change	$87,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

	2025 Taxable Assessed Value *	2026 Preliminary Taxable Assessed Value *	Approximate Tax Liability
			2025	2026

Approximate Total Taxes:			$4,690	$4,427
Decrease in Estimated Taxes:				-$263

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$315,000	69.50%	$453,237
2026	$392,000	100.00%	$392,000
Net Change	$77,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

Approximate Total Taxes:			$7,466	$5,872
Decrease in Estimated Taxes:				-$1,594

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

Approximate Total Taxes:			$5,132	$5,218
Increase in Estimated Taxes:				$86

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

Approximate Total Taxes:			$948	$1,400
Increase in Estimated Taxes:				$452

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

Decrease in Estimated Taxes:				-$39

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

Approximate Total Taxes:			$2,701	$3,142
Increase in Estimated Taxes:				$441

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

Approximate Total Taxes:			$7,660	$7,415
Decrease in Estimated Taxes:				-$245

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

Approximate Total Taxes:			$2,516	$3,654
Increase in Estimated Taxes:				$1,138

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

Approximate Total Taxes:			$1,955	$1,753
Decrease in Estimated Taxes:				-$202

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$70,000	69.50%	$100,719
2026	$112,000	100.00%	$112,000
Net Change	$42,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$220,100	69.50%	$316,691
2026	$380,000	100.00%	$380,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

Approximate Total Taxes:			$3,421	$4,015
Increase in Estimated Taxes:				$594

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

Approximate Total Taxes:			$2,052	$2,142
Increase in Estimated Taxes:				$90

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$178,000	69.50%	$256,115
2026	$191,000	100.00%	$191,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$69,000	69.50%	$99,281
2026	$100,000	100.00%	$100,000
Net Change	$31,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$201,000	69.50%	$289,209
2026	$311,000	100.00%	$311,000

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$67,000	69.50%	$96,403
2026	$140,000	100.00%	$140,000
Net Change	$73,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$190,000	69.50%	$273,381
2026	$435,000	100.00%	$435,000
Net Change	$245,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$223,000	69.50%	$320,863
2026	$400,000	100.00%	$400,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$137,000	69.50%	$197,122
2026	$230,000	100.00%	$230,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$9,500	69.50%	$13,669
2026	$14,900	100.00%	$14,900

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$17,000	69.50%	$24,460
2026	$45,000	100.00%	$45,000
Net Change	$28,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$43,000	69.50%	$61,871
2026	$80,000	100.00%	$80,000
Net Change	$37,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$102,000	69.50%	$146,763
2026	$156,000	100.00%	$156,000
Net Change	$54,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$65,288	69.50%	$93,940
2026	$145,000	100.00%	$145,000
Net Change	$79,712

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$107,000	69.50%	$153,957
2026	$148,000	100.00%	$148,000

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$53,000	69.50%	$76,259
2026	$81,000	100.00%	$81,000
Net Change	$28,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$200,000	69.50%	$287,770
2026	$400,000	100.00%	$400,000
Net Change	$200,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$296,000	69.50%	$425,899
2026	$477,000	100.00%	$477,000
Net Change	$181,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$105,500	69.50%	$151,799
2026	$160,000	100.00%	$160,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$193,200	69.50%	$277,986
2026	$273,000	100.00%	$273,000
Net Change	$79,800

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$374,300	69.50%	$538,561
2026	$560,000	100.00%	$560,000
Net Change	$185,700

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$175,000	69.50%	$251,799
2026	$243,600	100.00%	$243,600
Net Change	$68,600

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$181,000	69.50%	$260,432
2026	$335,000	100.00%	$335,000
Net Change	$154,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$7,800	69.50%	$11,223
2026	$120,000	100.00%	$120,000
Net Change	$112,200

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$8,800	69.50%	$12,662
2026	$12,400	100.00%	$12,400
Net Change	$3,600

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$233,000	69.50%	$335,252
2026	$298,000	100.00%	$298,000
Net Change	$65,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$9,700	69.50%	$13,957
2026	$12,100	100.00%	$12,100
Net Change	$2,400

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$207,600	69.50%	$298,705
2026	$252,000	100.00%	$252,000
Net Change	$44,400

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

EXEMPTIONS

No Exemptions on this parcel

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$220,000	69.50%	$316,547
2026	$322,000	100.00%	$322,000
Net Change	$102,000

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$39,000	69.50%	$56,115
2026	$45,100	100.00%	$45,100

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.

* Taxable assessed value is your property's assessed value minus applicable exemptions.

You should examine the tentative assessment roll regardless of this notice or have discussions with representatives of the assessor's office. If you disagree with your property's assessment, in order to protect your right to assessment review, you must file a formal written complaint on the officially prescribed form (RP-524), available from your assessor or online at www.tax.ny.gov, with your Board of Assessment Review (BAR) on or before

Grievance Day: 5/26/2026 A publication entitled "Contesting Your Assessment in New York State" is available at the assessor's office and online: www.tax.ny.gov.

Please note that your assessor and the BAR can only review your assessed value; they do not set and cannot adjust your taxes. If you feel that your assessment is fair but your taxes are too high, your comments should be addressed to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction.

You are hereby notified in accordance with the requirements of Section 511 of the Real Property Tax Law of your preliminary assessment. New York State law requires all properties in each municipality to be assessed at market value or at a uniform level of assessment each year. To comply with the law and ensure that all property owners are assessed fairly and accurately, assessments throughout the Town of Stephentown have been reviewed and adjusted as necessary.

Year	Assessed Value	Level of Assessment	Market Value
2025	$216,100	69.50%	$310,935
2026	$395,000	100.00%	$395,000
Net Change	$178,900

A change in your property's assessment does not necessarily indicate that your taxes will change. Your tax liability will be affected by several factors, including: changes to school/county/municipal budgets, changes to assessments of other properties, changes to exemptions and/or exemption savings amounts applicable to your property, and apportionment of school and/or county taxes among multiple municipal segments.

The information below is for comparison purposes only. It compares your prior year taxes to what they would have been had your 2026 assessment been in place. This is a hypothetical estimate based on prior year tax levies and does NOT represent your actual future tax liability.
